ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

This is the 141st Report of the Trustees of the Malden Public Library and the 13th Report of this President.

The Library is a friend for all! –Joe Lawless

That's one person's definition and it really says a lot!
But what exactly is a library to the rest of us?

A simple definition based on the word's etymology may be a collection of books or place that Houses a collection of books. "Library" is derived from the Latin "liber" or "libri" meaning books. An expanded definition might include books and other sources of information with the material being curated and selected by experts and made accessible for referencing and borrowing.

But today's library would be nearly unrecognizable compared to one of 100 years ago. The material collected and its method of availability has changed. Digital sources and network availability of materials have become commonplace. At any one time you will probably see more patrons using laptops than pencil and paper. Today's library as a reflection of today's society, has taken on roles that founders never envisioned. It has taken over responsibilities that in the past had been handled by other groups and institutions. Since the library now has the 'duty' to provide knowledge of everything to everyone, it has become a very busy place.

The question becomes how much should the Library be doing and how much can it do with the limited resources that it has? If we are to take over all these roles we need to be equipped to do so. We need more funding to provide access to digital knowledge; more funding to train staff and clientele to use this access; and more staff for all these functions. The entire staff needs good salaries and working conditions to maintain a high level of service and satisfaction for our patrons. The Library continues to have physical problems that need remediation. The 'new' building is almost 25 years old!

The Library has had a mixed year. Attorney John Moreschi, a promising addition to the Board, resigned due to moving out of the City. He was replaced with another promising Trustee, Nancy McPheeters who is also an attorney. Donations of art and money continue to come into the library to help. The Art collection was augmented by three gifted works of art by world famous Malden artist Frank Stella. Other collection-appropriate pieces were donated or purchased. Art lectures on the collection continue to be popular; and the Library continues to work with the Historical Society on exhibits and information.

The Library and its staff have shown their ability to maintain a high level of service, constant Improvement of collections and care of an old building in spite of a daunting amount of work to be done. Grant writing has proven quite successful and gifts from many individuals have also benefited the library.

The City is proud of its Library and rightly so; but the City should show more of this pride in a concrete way. Salaries, including administrative, need review and upgrading; a viable van to deliver books to house-bound patrons is needed. It is not a good sign that city is still on waivers by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners after 11 years.

Despite some of my complaints, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all who have helped this past year starting with the patrons and the staff. City government has done fairly well but must do more for its 'pride and joy'. Let's make this Library a true friend to all.

A friendly place where everyone feels at ease and can rely on each other for support.

Respectfully submitted,

John E. Tramondozzi,
President of the Board

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

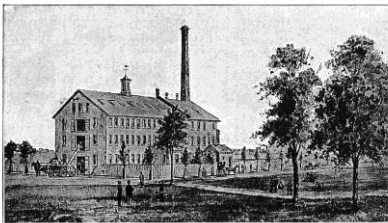

This is the 7th report of the Librarian and the 141th submitted to the Board of Trustees.

This year marks the Malden Public Library's 140th Anniversary!

In February 1879, a public library first opened in one small room, formerly occupied by the Murray & Wiley, Dry Goods Store, in the Old Town Hall. Looking back at the library's history we see the work and support of so many individuals and institutions. One of the early supports was John Gardner who in 1875 donate $5,000 toward a library building. However, it was not until Elisha and Mary Diana Converse's gift of the Converse Memorial Building in 1885 that a library building for Malden's residents truly became a reality.

GO LOCAL: CONVERSE 2020

This year the Library was awarded a $15,000 grant from the Museum and Library Services for "Go Local: Converse 2020," a two-year celebration of the 200th birthday of Elisha Converse and exploration of the industrial shoe history of Malden. The series included ten lectures including: "Malden Industry Before Rubber Shoes" with Linda Thorsen; "Irish Titan, Irish Toilers: Joseph Banigan and the Woonsocket Rubber Company" with Dr. Scott Molloy; "An Introduction to the Local History Room" with Lily Mysona; "Happy Birthday Mayor Converse!" at Fellsmere Park; "Harriet Robinson, Mill Girl" with Allison Horrocks of the Lowell National Parks; "Heart and Sole: The Lives of Malden Factory Workers" with Dee Morris; "Malden's Industry: An Exploration Through Historic Maps" with Frank Russell, and "Pattens, Overshoes, Clogs & Galoshes: How Did New Englanders Keep Their Feet Dry Before Elisha Converse?" with Dr. Kimberly Alexander.

BOSTON RUBBER SHOE COMPANY, 1853.

Malden seniors Birukti Tsige and Felix Li showed their documentary skills with “Hometown Hero: Elisha Converse;” and Fengying Guo, Bridget Gately and Joshua Dube, participating Mayor’s Summer Youth Employment Program at MATV, produced the video “Who Is Elisha Converse” which included scenes shot all over the City of Malden.

FRANK STELLA VISIT

One of the most exciting events of the year was a reception for world-famous contemporary artist Frank Stella. On Sunday, November 4, Frank Stella returned to Malden for a reception in his honor. The reception also celebrated the generosity of John L. Giso and Michael H. Nuttall who donated Stella’s Louisiana Lottery Company (1972), in honor of former Trustee Wilfred Carr. At the ceremony, Mr. Giso stated, “In Bill’s honor, on the occasion of what would have been his 100th birthday, I wanted to make a very special donation to the library’s art collection.” After Mr. Giso’s initial purchase, Mr. Stella kindly donated two additional works, Shards IV (1982) and The Pacific (1988), for the our growing modern art collection.

ART AND EXHIBITS

Long time art supporter John Tramondozzi gifted many fine works to the Library this year, including a bronze statue Allegorical of Music by Eutrop Bouret; Portrait of Russell and Lloyd Peckham and Altar Boy by Helena Sturtevant, Spring Blossoms by Darius Cobb, and Question and Whirligig by Cambridge artist Maud Morgan.

The Library was thrilled to receive ten significant gifts from the New York- based Alex Katz Foundation. Works donated include: Parker by Nicole Wittenberg; Enthroned (Installation) by Chris Oh; Beverley Road, Dan and Nancy's House, Mary A. Whalen, Stern, Red House, Kensington, and Woods at the End of Winter by Jim Ebersole; Ms. Malaria and Manhattan (goddess) dancing in the winds 1929 by Emma McMillan; and blackdarkgreyvioletblue pour by Leah Durner.

The Library offered monthly tours of the Converse Memorial Building's Art Galleries which highlighted new acquisitions and women artists in the collection. Special art tours were also given to a wide range of audiences from 4th graders from the BeeBee School to seniors from Forestdale Manor Assisted Living.

The new Rotating Artists Series featured the works of local artist, sculptors and photographers. Local artists Lisa Sears, Maria Tiro, James Blandini, Charles Fred Seager, Ashley Wilichoski, Liz Campbell-Tompkins, Grace Julian Murthy, Lisa DeCobert were featured.

In conjunction with the Malden Historical Society, the Library presented two exhibitions: “War and Remembrance: Malden in the Great War,” an exhibition of World War I posters, photographs and artifacts. The exhibition was timed with the dedication of a refurbished and expanded World War I memorial at Devir Park; and “Mother Russia: An Exhibition of Icons and Artifacts from Czarist Russia,” an exhibit of 70 pieces from a private collection, including painted icons, brass and bronze icons, and other small religious and secular items dating from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

TRIPLE THREAT TRIVIA #20

The 2019 Triple Threat Trivia Winner is Mayor's MoTTTley Crew – two years in a row! The Library held its 20th Annual Triple Threat Trivia Fundraiser on January 24, 2019. Thank you to all our wonderful volunteers, library staff, and supporters for helping with this great fundraising event. A special thank you to our business sponsors: Breen & Sullivan Services Inc., Dunkin' / Medeiros Family, Malden Advocate, E.E. Burns & Son Funeral Home, Malden Transportation, Shapiro & Hender Law, and Walker Mechanical Inc.

REVISING THE FOUNDING ERA

The Library was also awarded a Revisiting the Founding Era grant from the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History and the American Library Association. The grant funded a spoken word poetry workshop for teens inspired by the Broadway musical Hamilton! and taught by Alex Charalambides of Mass Poetry; a lecture by Historical Society member Linda Thorson exploring the events in Massachusetts and Malden that led up to the drafting of the Malden Instructions—our declaration of support of American Independence; and the annual reading of the Malden Instructions by period actor Tom Coots and the music of the William Diamond Junior Fife and Drum Corps.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS

It was a very hot summer. Surging heat and humidity combined to make July 2019 the hottest month on record. The aging roof chillers were not up to the task and constant repairs were needed throughout the summer, and replacing the aging system became a priority. As the snow fell in February, we signed a contract with Walker Mechanical to replace our two 60-ton roof chillers and add an additional split system to the children's room. In April, with a bit of fanfare and help from our neighbor First Baptist Church, Walker Mechanical installed the new chillers on the roof. We also began work on replacing boiler #2 – after replacing boiler #1 last year.

The Adelaide Breen Bayrd Foundation continues to provide substantial support to maintain the library's buildings. With grant funding, we completed the replacement of both sections of rubber roofing installed in 1994. We also completed a full renovation of the first floor public restrooms with design services provided by Spencer & Voight and build out by Minuteman Building & Preservation, Inc.

My continued thanks to the entire Malden Public Library staff, the Board of Trustees, Mayor Gary Christenson, and all city officials, our generous donors and volunteers, and to the wonderful community of Malden for their continued support of their library.

Sadly, we note a loss to the Malden Public Library family. Retired custodian Charles Cadiero passed away on October 2, 2018. Our deepest sympathy goes to his families and friends.

Respectfully submitted,

Dora St. Martin
Director

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN

This is the 6th report of the Assistant Librarian and the 141th submitted to the Board of Trustees.

The past year at Malden Public Library has enabled me, as Assistant Director, to engage with various community members, groups, and activities, along with continuing with my technology-based tasks here at the library.

Technology

One of the technology goals that we had set here at the Library was to upgrade the connections that supplied on-line capabilities to the public computers. We installed over 20 new drops in the main reading and teen rooms, thus ensuring that each public computer was connected individually to our Comcast connection. This improved online speed for faster surfing and no lag in streaming. In conjunction with additional drops, we added additional switches in the building, again to provide the fastest Internet connection for our visitors.

In addition, a new printer was purchased and installed for the public for faster printing. The Malden Public Library website was upgraded to a secure connection (https) and the newest version of Wordpress.

FRIENDS OF THE MALDEN PUBLIC LIBRARY

I have been fortunate to be the liaison between Malden Public Library's Friends group, attending meetings and helping with their fund-raising efforts. The Friends held two large book sales this past year, one in the spring and one in the fall. Both were well attended and continue to be a popular event here at the Library. Also, the Friends held their first ever Brews for Books here at the Library. About 250 people attended, and we entertained with craft beer and hard cider for tasting from local breweries and cider houses, music from a live band, outdoor games, and lots of great finger food from our generous local restaurants. Because of its success, another Brews for Books is in the planning stages.

A BEAUTIFUL BREWFEST

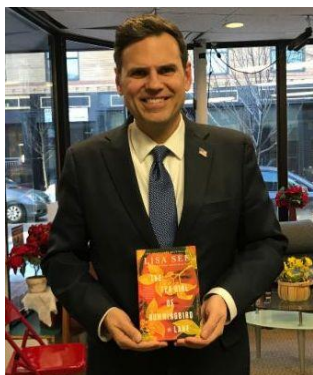

Malden Reads

The Malden Reads selection for the past year was The Tea Girl of Hummingbird Lane by Lisa See. Many events were planned and held, including, here at the Library, a book discussion led by Mayor Christenson with a slide show and talk from a resident just returning from China, a Skype interview with the author, and a tea tasting and ceremony. The Library is always excited to share our love of learning and reading with the Malden community, and Malden Reads is one of our favorite vehicles for doing that.

Respectfully submitted,

Caron Guigli
Assistant Director

SUMMER READING

The theme for this year's summer reading program was a Universe of Stories highlighted with events honoring the 50th anniversary of the moon landing. Events included our annual Ice Cream Social Kick Off sponsored by Dairy Delight, the showing of the movie Apollo 11, a rocket craft program for children, and a moon landing party with 1960s dress, food and music.

A special thanks to our summer reading sponsors Preotle, Lane and Associates, the Friends of the Malden Public Library, and the Malden Cultural Council. Because of them children and teens had a full summer of educational and fun programming. All ages were encouraged to read over the summer and prizes and certificates were awarded. A special sponsor this year was the Knights of Pythias which donated new bikes and helmets for six of our summer readers.

Special summer events for children included a live animal show: Creature Teacher, Kandinsky Craft Circles, a STEM-focused LEGO & Snap Circuit Playtime, Kid Karaoke, KIDSTOCK! Theater, a Bonaparte Family Magic Show, a Bubble Blowing Party, Science Magic, Playful Engineers - Traveling Makerspace with Jay Mankita, and a visit from the Whalemobile (Nile, the 43-foot inflatable humpback whale).

With the help of a new Teen Advisory Group (TAG), teens also enjoyed a summer of fun and reading. The Teens helped plan summer events, including a karaoke party, tie-dye shirts crafts, young adult yoga, perl bead crafts, a NBA 2K19 gaming event, and several afternoon movies. The Teen Advisory Group helped choose new café seating for the young adult room and pick out an Iphone and computer charging station.

SUMMER CONCERT SERIES

On July 11, Malden Public Library's "Live on the Lawn" Summer Concert Series sponsored by Eastern Bank with West African band, Mamadou. Squeezebox Stompers brought the sounds of Mardi Gras to Malden; and Knock on Wood then took center stage on August 1st with a high-energy acoustic folk-rock concert, featuring singer-songwriter Howie Newman and fiddler/mandolinist Joe Kessler.

ADULT PROGRAMS

On April 11, Boston author Hester Fox came to Malden for a signing, Q&A, and brief reading of her recently published novel, The Witch of Willow Hall. On April 25, the Library hosted a talk with Jack Kelly III, author of Sharp Needle, an autobiographical account of Jack Kelly's tragic spiral into heroin addiction, recovery and running for office, in the cutthroat world of Boston Politics. Paul Hammersley, Malden's Addiction Recovery Resource specialist, also discussed city services for people battling addiction and their families. And on May 30, the Malden Writers' Collaborative shared their work at their 9th Annual Public Reading.

On March 26, The Library hosted A Citizen Lyceum Forum which included an evening of film and discussion around the PBS documentary "The Chinese Exclusion Act." This event is co-sponsored by the American Association of Arab Women, the Chinese Culture Connection, MaldenCORE (Community Organizing for Racial Equity), and the Malden Public Library. Roger Desrosiers from the Massachusetts Center for Civic Education will lead the conversation related to the Chinese Exclusion Act. Malden Reads began co-hosting lyceums in 2018; they are opportunities to become engaged citizens through civic and civil dialogue.

Other special events for adults included: Pastels with Greg Maichack, Origami Night for Adults, Game Night, First Monday Night Book Discussion Group, the Booker Prize Book Discussion Group, and our monthly Adult Movie Night.

HARRY POTTER TURNS 20

On September 1, 1998, Scholastic published Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone in the United States, for the first time. The first book in a series of seven would go on to become one of the highest-sold books in the world. In celebration of Harry's 20th, the staff turned the Library into Hogwarts' School of Witchcraft and Wizardry for one night only. Wands were provided, spells were cast, and everyone had a magical evening. The Young Adult Department also got in on the fun with a magical birthday party for the boy wizard.

CIRCULATION & CATALOGING

The Technical Services, Circulation, and Catalog Departments kept items flowing onto the library shelves all year long. Library card applications and instructions were translated into many languages. The staff weeded the fiction and nonfiction collections; and provide home-bound book delivery to Malden seniors.

WORLD LANGUAGE

The Library continues to provide weekly English Conversation class to people from all over the world, including Haiti, China, India, Poland, Morocco, Belgium, Iran, Peru, Congo, Brazil, Syria, Mongolia, Belarus, Thailand, France, Spain, Algeria, Turkey, Mexico, Indonesia, the Dominican Republic, Saudi Arabia, Nepal, Vietnam, Senegal, and Colombia. The staff provided tours of the library and library cards for students from the Immigrant Learning Center and the Malden High School ESL classes.

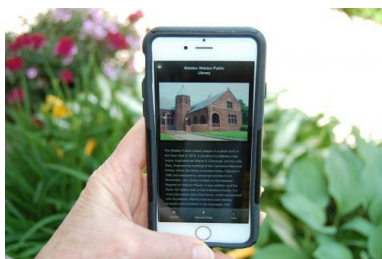

GATEWAY CITY LIBRARY

The Massachusetts Center for the Book (MCB) has added Malden as a Gateway City Library to its live app, MassBook Trails

(info@massbook.org). The Malden

Public Library is celebrated on the Gateway City Library Trail for providing access to reading and 21st century gateways to opportunity for their patrons through digital connectivity and programming.

LIBRARY BY THE NUMBERS

Malden residents continue to use their library enthusiastically. In FY2019, the Library circulated 315,835 items to library card holders and 38,970 items to other libraries throughout the state. Library staff answered 103,872 reference questions and assisted an average of 847 public computer and wifi users per week. The Library programming staff offered 329 special programs throughout the year, attended by 11,896 children, teen and adults.
